

Please take 4 sticky notes! (Each color please)
 When class starts, we will spin the wheel, and make teams!

What does REAL CONNECTION look like?

Let's make teams!!

Moving to a new country can feel lonely, or it can feel like community. Today, we're going to look at how to use English to connect with people.

Let's do our warm up activity, and make teams!

Groups of 2
or 3

COMMUNITY

ALONE

CONNECTION

CONFUSED

Step 1:
With your partner, copy each word onto the correct sticky note color.

Here are the FOUR words→

COMMUNITY

ALONE

CONNECTION

CONFUSED

Talk with your partner about your words.
Which sentence matches each picture?
Let's have some fun!
Everyone come up and put the sticky on the picture you think is best!! (any answer okay!)

WALT We are learning to...

- Talk about current events using 100% English
- Work with groups to problem solve social issues
- Understand who Karen (カレン) people are and the challenges they face as immigrants in America
- Understand why Karen people are being forced to leave their homes
- Use empathy to put ourselves in the shoes of other people
- Talk about ways to connect and become friends with people from other cultures.

This is important because...

- As we always say: Communication is not just grammar.. it is connection!
- To really connect with people, we need to understand their situation and listen with empathy.
- You will be traveling to America in just a few months. You will want people to welcome you.
- And here in Japan, the number of immigrants is also growing.
- What can we do to help them feel more welcome?

Groups of 4

Boss: Please come get these for your group:

- 4 cups
- 4 stickers

(Label each cup like in the picture!)

- 10 paper clips for each person
(4 people group = 40 paper clips)

1: Education

You want to get your master's degree. There is a program in Tokyo that matches your interests, but there is also a university in America that looks interesting.

2: Natural Disaster

Scientists are predicting a huge earthquake will strike Japan within the next 5 years. You have an opportunity to move to a city in America where there are fewer earthquakes.

Which reason would make you choose to leave Japan forever?

3: Job

You just graduated from university. You have been offered two jobs. One is in Japan, and one is in America. Both pay you the same money and are great jobs!

4: War

A powerful country is fighting Japan. Neighborhoods in some areas have been destroyed, and many of your friends and family members are very worried. You have an opportunity to escape to America.

RULES

4 Cups: Put 4 cups on your table (Education, Disaster, Job, War).

10 Clips: Use all 10 paper clips (1 clip = 1 point).

Rule 1: Put at least 1 clip in every cup!

Rule 2: Maximum 7 clips in one cup (No cup can have all 10!).

Talk & Vote: Talk with your team and put your clip in the cups!

(David will model for you how to do this)

1: Education

You want to get your master's degree. There is a program in Tokyo that matches your interests, but there is also a university in America that looks interesting.

2: Natural Disaster

Scientists are predicting a huge earthquake will strike Japan within the next 5 years. You have an opportunity to move to a city in America where there are fewer earthquakes.

Which reason would make you choose to leave Japan forever?

3: Job

You just graduated from university. You have been offered two jobs. One is in Japan, and one is in America. Both pay you the same money and are great jobs!

4: War

A powerful country is fighting Japan. Neighborhoods in some areas have been destroyed, and many of your friends and family members are very worried. You have an opportunity to escape to America.

Wow, that was a difficult choice!
Thank you for voting

Okay, Boss, please count
how many votes per cup.
Which one has the most votes?

One person from each team will make a 45
second speech! Please tell us which choice had the most votes and WHY.

Each team will have 2 minutes to help the speaker prepare their short speech. Help your friend and give them some good ideas!

Hot Potato!

Okay, let's play Hot Potato!

A: Hey, what have you been into lately?

Pass potato to friend!!

B: I've been into watching English movies!

Take the potato and reply

REPEAT, until you hear the alarm!

Today's winner will get to make a quick 45 second speech about the topic. Congrats!!

Nice speeches you guys!
Okay, let's move into our lesson:

Today we will be talking about the Karen people.

A people from Myanmar who did NOT have the choice you had.

They have been forced to leave everything they have ever known because of violence and war.

Let's learn some information about Karen people and why they immigrated to places like America.

The Karen (カレン) people are an ethnic group from Myanmar (Burma).

Many Karen people lived in the mountains near the border of Thailand.

- Many Karen families were forced to leave their homes because of war.
- They left quickly, with almost no belongings: no toys, no books, no furniture.
- Some walked for many days to reach a safe place in Thailand.
- In the refugee camps, there was often no electricity, no school, and not enough food.
- There was not much education, and parents couldn't work.

- Since 1989, over 50,000 individuals have been killed, and hundreds of thousands have lost their homes.
- After living in refugee camps in Thailand, many Karen people waited for more more than 10 years to find a safe country to live in.
- The United Nations 国連 (こくれん) and other groups helped them apply to move to another country.
- The U.S. government accepted many Karen refugees.

Myanmar

Thailand

America

Life in the U.S. for Karen Refugees

- Many Karen families feel glad to be safe, but life is not easy.
- English is difficult, and many adults can't find good jobs.
- Some Karen people work long hours in factories, cleaning jobs, or kitchens.
- Many families live in very small apartments and share space with relatives.

- Children go to school, but they may feel shy or confused in class.
- Some Karen students feel alone because they do not understand the English language or American culture yet.
- Even though life is hard, many Karen people are strong and hopeful.
- They want to study, work hard, and make a better future.

Now that we have read some facts, let's hear from a real person.
Watch a video created by a Karen student in America.

Quiz time!

With a partner, choose which statements are True or False!
Write your answers on your white board

1. Many Karen people didn't study English before coming to America.
2. In the U.S., Karen people always have an easy life.
3. Many Karen students feel shy or lonely at school.
4. Karen people are from China.
5. Do not have savings with a lot of money.
6. Families lost everything they owned when they escaped to Thailand.

Now let's talk about the answers!
We will do hot potato with the whole class to see who will come up and put a T or F next to the sentence!

1. Many Karen people didn't study English before coming to America.
2. In the U.S. Karen people always have an easy life.
3. Many Karen students feel shy or lonely at school.
4. Karen people are from China.
5. Do not have savings with a lot of money.
6. Families lost everything they owned when they escaped to Thailand.

Each student who comes up will earn a David Dollar!

Before we start the next activity, let's make new teams

Groups of 4

You will learn about 4 Karen people living in America

- These stories are not real but similar to real people's lives that David knew.
- David was a teacher in Milwaukee and had many Karen students.
- They were very special, worked really hard, and were some of his favorite students!
- You will put yourself in the shoes of an American who knows these wonderful people.
- Your job is to make them feel comfortable in America
- You will write a ROLE PLAY of at least 10 lines

Eh Kler 38

- She came to America with her two children after her village in Myanmar was attacked.
- She speaks very little English and works at night cleaning hotel rooms.
- She enjoys cooking but doesn't know where to buy Asian food and feels lonely.
- Likes American desserts but has never made them before
- She likes decorating her home and wants to make it a beautiful place for her children

Your role: American mother who lives next door and has children around the same age.

Law Mu 50

- He came to America with his wife and four children.
- He is good at painting houses but can not find a good job
 - He works two jobs washing dishes, and comes home very late.
- He does not speak English well and walks everywhere because he does not know how to use the bus.
- He likes to go fishing but does not know where to buy good equipment or good places to catch big fish

Your role: American man and neighbor. You are a construction worker.

Dee Ku 16

- Born in a refugee camp in Thailand. He has never been to Myanmar.
- He was born female but wants to live as a male and tries to dress like a teen boy.
 - His parents only give him girl clothes though, so it is hard to dress the way he feels.
- He can speak some English, but class English is too fast.
- He loves soccer and wants to join a team.
- He sits alone at lunch and does not have friends yet.

Your role: A popular American girl who is an athlete and plays many sports. You are the same age.

Moo Shee 13

- She was born in America, but her parents do not speak English well.
- She is shy about her clothes, because they are all secondhand.
- She loves anime and manga and watches Japanese videos.
- She is very good at math, but English is very hard for her.

Your role: 20-year-old university student-teacher. You work in her classroom 10 hours per week.

Let's do a role play about a Karen university student in America who likes to draw.

Let's do an example ROLE
PLAY together

Short Example

American Classmate (David): "Hi Paw Lu! Wow, your anime sketch looks amazing!"

Paw Lu (Student Volunteer): "Thank you! I love drawing, but I do not know where to buy good sketch pens in America."

American Classmate: "There is a great art store near my house. Let's go together after school, and I can introduce you to the art club teacher!"

Paw Lu: "That would help me so much. Thank you, my friend!"

Does someone want to volunteer to help David for 2$??

Eh Kler 38

- She came to America with her two children after her village in Myanmar was attacked.
- She speaks very little English and works at night cleaning hotel rooms.
- She enjoys cooking but doesn't know where to buy Asian food and feels
- Likes American desserts but has never made them before
- She likes decorating her home and wants to have a beautiful children

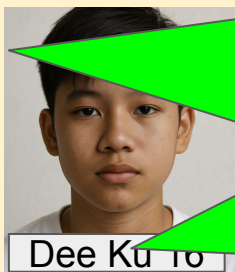

Your role: American mother who lives next door and has children around the same age.

Law Mu 50

- He came to
- He is not

- Okay! We will go to our white board with markers and write our role plays..
- At least 10 lines
- David will walk around and help
- David dollars for groups who are having great conversations in English!

Dee Ku 10

-

by he feels.

A popular American girl who is an athlete and plays many sports. You are the same age.

Moo Shee 13

- She was born in America, but her parents do not speak English well.
- She is shy about her clothes, because they are all secondhand.
- She loves anime and manga and watches Japanese videos.
- She is very good at math, but English is very hard for her.

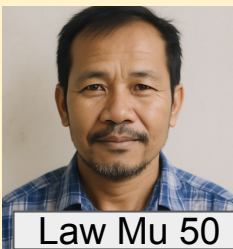

Your role: 20-year-old university student-teacher. You work in her classroom 10 hours per week.

Eh Kler 38

- She came to America with her two children after her village in Myanmar was attacked.
- She speaks very little English and works at night cleaning hotel rooms.
- She enjoys cooking but doesn't know where to buy Asian food and feels lonely.
- Likes American desserts but has never made them before
- She likes decorating her home and wants to make it a beautiful place for her children

Your role: American mother who lives next door and has children around the same age.

Law Mu 50

- He came to America with his wife and four children.
- He is good at painting houses but can not find a good job
 - He works two jobs washing dishes, and comes home very late.
- He does not speak English well and walks everywhere because he does not know how to use the bus.
- He likes to go fishing but does not know where to buy good equipment or good places to catch big fish

Your role: American man and neighbor. You are a construction worker.

Dee Ku 16

- Born in a refugee camp in Thailand. He has never been to Myanmar.
- He was born female but wants to live as a male and tries to dress like a teen boy.
 - His parents only give him girl clothes though, so it is hard to dress the way he feels.
- He can speak some English, but class English is too fast.
- He loves soccer and wants to join a team.
- He sits alone at lunch and does not have friends yet.

20:00

Your role: A popular American girl who is an athlete and plays many sports. You are the same age.

Moo Shee 13

- She was born in America, but her parents do not speak English well.
- She is shy about her clothes, because they are all secondhand.
- She loves anime and manga and watches Japanese videos.
- She is very good at math, but English is very hard for her.

Your role: 20-year-old university student-teacher. You work in her classroom 10 hours per week.

Wow you guys!

I am really proud of how hard you worked.

You did a great job using English to step in the shoes of an American person and connect with these special people.

You have the skill and personalities to be successful connecting with new friends when you go to America in a couple of months!

BUT! We aren't finished yet:
Now let's do Hot Potato again to see which one of you tell the class how you will connect with your new Karen friend

After you are finished, David will talk about some of the things he really liked about what you wrote! (and make some small grammar corrections, of course haha!)

We are finished for today but will continue with the topic next time!

Exit Ticket and D$ Raffle Time!

On the back of your David Dollar, answer this question:

“What do you think would be the hardest thing about starting over in a new country with no money and little language ability?”

You can use as many D$ as you want. THREE WINNERS!

Don't forget to check PADLET for your HOMEWORK!

In your section:

- 1) Post a pic of a Karen food you want to try!
- 2) Write a sentence of two about why you want to try it.

Below is an example of a slide I use in the beginning of each year to introduce my reward system. Believe it or not, D$ are just as big a hit for Japanese university freshman as they are in jhs and hs.

$$$ DAVID DOLLARS $$$

Using English

If you only use English, you will be fluent and can travel the world easily!!

Working Hard - Participating

Doing your assignments and working with other students in a fun and respectful way! Wrong answers are okay, just do your best and have fun (--

Win a Contest!

Contest winners get extra dollars, so Good luck!

About once a week, David will do a RAFFLE for a prize. Write your name on your David Dollar, and maybe you will win American Candy or Stickers!